Dear Parents/Carers

I am pleased to be able to send you the latest Ofsted Inspection Report for Queen Edith Primary School. The school was evaluated under Ofsted's new and more rigorous framework for inspections during a two-day visit earlier in November. The Inspectors found the overall effectiveness of the school to be good, with outstanding elements. They recognised some particular strengths, including consistently good teaching, above-average standards of achievement and pupils' excellent behaviour and attitudes to learning. Given the challenges the school has had to face over the last term with building work and the logistical problems of being spread across the two sites, it is pleasing that the inspectors also found that this has not disrupted the children's learning or led to a lowering of standards.

I am sure you will join me in congratulating Mrs Peet and the rest of the staff in helping Ofsted to see that Queen Edith is 'a special place with a very harmonious, family atmosphere' which 'enables pupils from a wide range of backgrounds to achieve well.'

The Governing Body along with the Senior Leadership and whole staff team will now continue to strive to raise standards and achievement throughout the school. We will also be exploring ways to address the development point included in the report. Should you have any queries or comments please do get in touch.

Best wishes

Abigail Crampton
Chair of the Governing Body
